Background

- ❖ Trusted Capital is co-hosting a series of events designed to convene DoD-critical companies and capital providers aligned with our national security interests
- ❖ This event is specifically geared toward addressing, and is a key component of, DoD's response to the COVID-19 pandemic
- ❖ The goal is to facilitate DoD funding to companies with critical technology to provide risk mitigation against adversarial influence in supply chains, manufacturing, and funding channels
- ❖ The event will foster a relationship between the companies and DoD to help further technologies to combat COVID-19, and enhance interagency effort in responding and aiding during this pandemic
- ❖ Potential participants will undergo the due diligence required to pass a national security review for entrance into the Trusted Capital Venture Days and Trusted Capital Marketplace
